

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: What is planned giving?

A: Planning a gift to the Community Service Society of New York (CSS) is simply arranging now in your will, living trust, retirement account, or life insurance policy, for a future gift to the organization.

Q: What if I don't have a will?

A: Unfortunately, if someone dies without a will, in many cases state laws take over and distribute your estate according to their formulas – regardless of what you might have wanted. You may not, for example, be able to provide extra help to particular family members who may need it, or benefit friends who have been close to you. And, you might not be able to help the Community Service Society of New York or any charity that meant a lot to you during your lifetime.

Q: Do I need to have a certain amount of assets to leave a legacy gift?

A: Anyone can leave a legacy gift. There is no minimum amount.

Q: Can I make my legacy gift in honor or in memory of someone?

A: Of course. And, we will honor their memory in the special Legacy Circle section of our annual report.

Letter from the President & CEO

We all need to plan for the future. You plan for yours, and the Community Service Society of New York (CSS) plans on the behalf of millions of hardworking New Yorkers who are striving for equity and dignity. As we work together for a strong future for New York, I am sharing this brochure about planned giving so you can see the benefits of this type of gift, and how easy it would be for you to leave a bequest to CSS in your will.

I assure you, the impact of your planned gift will be profound. You will help ensure that we will always be there to help all New Yorkers, whether it's an ill child or a family about to lose their home.

I urge you to read these informative pages and consider the benefits of a planned gift to CSS. But first, let me quickly share some key benefits of planned giving:

- ➔ A planned gift is possible for supporters at all income levels. Both large and modest bequests are key to our long-term strategy of building a more equitable New York.
- ➔ Making a planned gift need not be complex or difficult. It's as simple as naming the Community Service Society of New York in your will.
- ➔ Planned giving may have significant immediate and long-term tax-benefits. Please ask your financial adviser or accountant for more details on tax benefits applicable to you.

There are many simple options to leaving a planned gift. Remember, planned giving matters today and in the future. Together, we can help the city we love.

Sincerely,

David R. Jones, Esq.
President and Chief Executive Officer
